

Home Health Care Nursing

Outline:

In this section, we will clarify research topics and explore practical support methods while learning theories. In the field of home health care nursing, the themes dealt with are wide-ranging. Home care, nursing care at home, visiting nursing and outpatient nursing, continuous nursing and discharge support from the ward to home, multidisciplinary collaboration and nursing care cooperation in the community, home care management of medical care patients, management of nursing offices, construction of home care systems and development of social resources, etc.

We approach the advent of a multi-death, super-aging society. People are urging nurses to support people to live healthily and peacefully in their familiar homes. Based on this background, we regard home health care nursing as a concept in a broad sense shared by all nurses, regardless of where nurses are working. We defined home health care nursing as a nursing practice that aims to maintain and improve QOL in the lives of people with illness and disabilities and their families.
